Principal's Desk

The month of August is filled with festivals and many reasons to celebrate.

We are all lucky to witness the 75th year of independence. It's the time to introspect and make necessary extrapolations to bring in further improvement in the economic, social and political spheres.

Being a part of the S.D.M. Institutional family, we have a great cause to celebrate this August. Our reverend President is nominated as a Rajya Sabha member and participated in the Parliamentary deliberations. His service to society through various initiatives on rural development, women empowerment and self-employment, and higher educational institutions imparting quality education and health services has created an indelible mark in the developmental history of the region without any geographical boundaries.

Festivals are a reflection of the diversity and unity of India.

Each festival celebrated has a meaning and message.

Let us emulate the learning.
