Principal's Desk

Change is such a phenomenon that it encroaches without our notice. Whether we like it or not, it happens without our knowledge, we grow from childhood to adulthood, we start our career, we begin our family life, we acquire assets like own house, vehicles, properties, savings and investments.

With all this, we feel insecure and unhappy. We try to seek happiness outside. We try to assess happiness and security in terms of assets and achievements. They are external indicators. Unless we achieve internal satisfaction and security within, all that we possess seems to be the card towers, which is vulnerable and prone to fall.

So, it is the right time to choose and select the path for a life journey. If you choose the right path, you will reach the right destination without any hassles.

Wish you all the best.

Dr. P.N. Udayachandra
